

SHOPPING WITH HELEN HOLMES

The Columbia Players' Beautiful Leading Lady

Anyone that has had the pleasure of conversing with Miss Holmes is quickly impressed with the fact that she is a person of discrimination and discernment. This impression was verified beyond doubt by the photographer that was permitted to accompany her on one of her shopping trips. "I had heard so many favorable comments about the splendid shops in Washington," said Miss Holmes, "that I purposely deferred buying many of the things I will need during the coming season, until I had arrived here. I have been delighted beyond expression with the results. As I walk through the aisles of some of the stores here, I almost feel as if I were in the most exclusive shops of Paris. And how reasonable the prices are. And what courteous and efficient salesmen and saleswomen everywhere. I love to 'shop.' And I must admit that up to date my shopping in Washington has given me genuine pleasure because of the splendid results."

WHEN evening gowns and imported laces are wanted Miss Holmes always finds the newest styles from New York and Paris at Rizik Brothers' store at 1213 F street N. W.

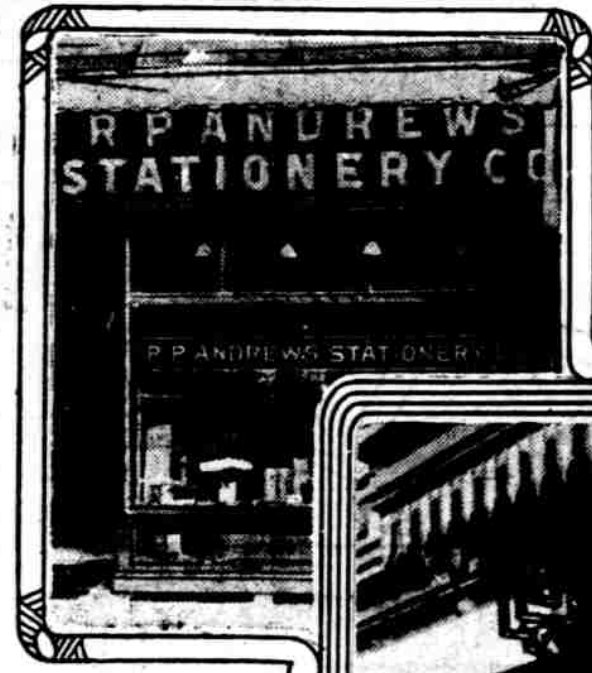

THE latest portrait of Miss Helen Holmes, taken by Harris & Ewing, at 1311 F street northwest, who do quite a lot of photographing for Miss Holmes. She has always been pleased with their excellent work, promptness, and courteous treatment.

MISS HOLMES finds the Sterling Hotel, at 13th and E, an excellent place to go for after-theater suppers.

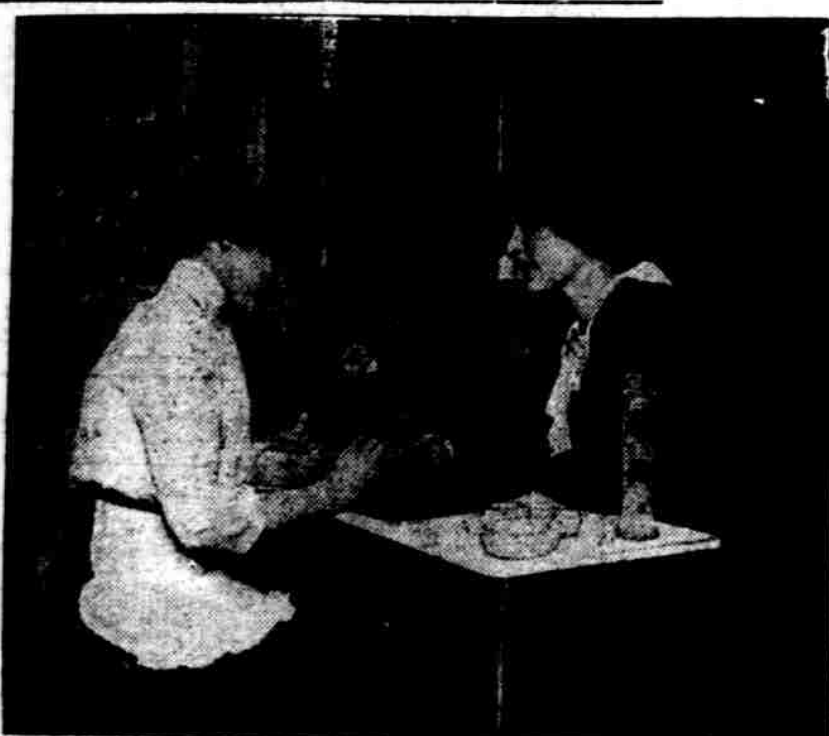

MISS HOLMES, upon her visit to the Percy S. Foster Piano Company, at 1330 G street, was delighted with their splendid showing of pianos, player-pianos, talking machines, and sheet music.

MISS HOLMES is seen here leaving R. P. Andrews Company's new home at 727-31 Thirteenth street, and above are shown the two branch stores at 629 Louisiana avenue and 1331 F street. "If it's made of paper you can get it at Andrews," Miss Holmes said, "I am most particular about my writing paper for personal correspondence." Upon approaching the new "House of Andrews" she was greatly impressed with its magnitude, and within the store she was pleased with the courteous treatment given. She was shown Organdie Glace, with the new Nell Rose Border Paper and Correspondence Cards to match—in exclusive sizes, shapes, and styles, also an excellent line of imported papers for foreign correspondence in all shades and colors.

AT the jewelry store of A. Kahn, at 935 F street, northwest, the photographer snapped Miss Holmes as she was selecting one of their famous strings of pearls.

MISS HOLMES is one of the many pleased patrons of the new manicure parlors of The Cloyes Co., Rooms 308-309 in the Woodward Building, 15th and H streets.

THIS picture was taken at the millinery shop of Maison Rosa, at 714 Eleventh street northwest, where Miss Holmes is selecting a stylish spring hat.

MISS HOLMES finds Borden's, at 704 Eleventh street northwest, prepared to meet her every need in hair-dressing and hair goods in a most satisfactory manner.

MISS HOLMES' extensive wardrobe necessitates the services of an expert dyeing and cleaning establishment such as Spindler's, at 607 Twelfth street northwest.

THE camera man snapped Miss Holmes selecting a beautiful bouquet of roses at Gude Bros., florists, at 1214 F street northwest.

REALIZING that the corset is the foundation of fashionable garb, Miss Holmes paid a visit to the corsetier salon of Mme. Goddard, at 1112 G street northwest.